

AI is also our attempt to understand intelligence better (natural science)

“ We don't think we have understood something unless we can build it fRoM sCrACh.”

From scratch: use machine which is created by human, not other organic beings we don't fully understand yet

Then...

Where shall I start with if I want to make machines to be intelligent, aka to be able to solve tasks and make art?